

Maya Food Anagrams

Use the clues below to help you work out the anagrams for some Maya foods.

- A large animal hunted by the Maya for food.
- A protein rich food often grown alongside corn.
- A small, spicy fruit which could be added to many dishes.
- A sweet, sticky food made by a buzzing insect.
- A wild or domesticated animal which provided meat and eggs.
- The main food in the Maya diet. Used in a range of recipes.
- A small bean which was very precious and was used to make chocolate.
- A root vegetable whose seeds could be made into a nutritious paste.

Anagram	Answer
eynoh
senab
hilicl rppeeps
qshaus
rnco or ezami
kutrye
ocaca
erde

