

Friday 26th Feb

We've reached another Friday! Well done all on a fantastic week of home learning- we have received some super work so far this week!

Maths * Today we are going to recap our learning on fractions this week. Watch the song below to make you smile... and then work through the fraction booklet questions on the website! (Parents please see how much of this your child can do unsupported - maybe mark with a star each question that is completed independently so we can assess their understanding - thanks!)
