

9.2.21 Spelling.

LO to identify the correct homophone.

Homophones sound the same but have different meanings.

Match the sentences to the correct homophone. Write them out in your book.

Accept (verb)

to receive something and take it.

Affect (verb)

To cause something to happen

Except (preposition)

to exclude something.

Effect (noun)

The result of something that has happened.

The snowy weather may _____ our plans this weekend.

Joe's performance in the test was _____ by his hay fever.

The snowy weather had an _____ on our weekend plans.

Keep changing the layout of your poster until you get the _____ you're looking for.

You can donate all items _____ my toy cars.

My granny will _____ cake from anyone.

I won't _____ that behaviour.

The organisation will _____ donations at the weekends.

ANSWERS

The snowy weather may affect our plans this weekend.

Joe's performance in the test was affected by his hay fever.

The snowy weather had an effect on our weekend plans.

Keep changing the layout of your poster until you get the effect you're looking for.

You can donate all items except my toy cars

My granny will accept cake from anyone.

I won't except that behaviour.