

Here rests Beowulf at Hronesness.

Of all the kings that ever lived, this was the gentlest and kindest to his people, the most gracious and famous the world had known. His life might be over but his name and deeds would live on as long as his tale was told...

