

Thursday 28th January

L.O. I can write the conflict/problem and the resolution of my chapter that includes dialogue

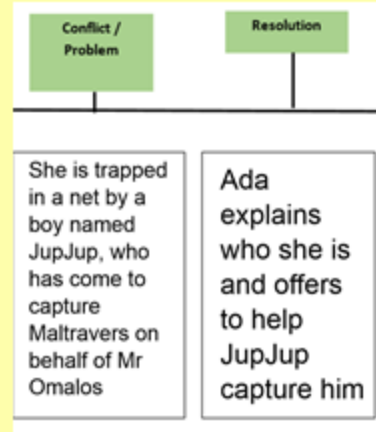

What do we need to include to be successful?

Success Criteria
Include the problem
Use powerful vocabulary
Use descriptive language
Use adverbs
Resolve the problem
Include speech correctly punctuated

Thursday 28th January

L.O. I can write the conflict/problem and the resolution of my chapter that includes dialogue

Success Criteria
Include the problem
Use powerful vocabulary
Use descriptive language
Use adverbs
Resolve the problem
Include speech correctly punctuated

Problem

Ada tiptoed carefully inside; dodging broken glass which was littering the floor. She walked down the dingy corridor and stopped at the first door. Again, apprehensively, she took hold of the handle and gently twisted it. The door creaked open. Ada took one step inside and Whoosh! She was scooped up in a net. She was suspended from the mighty chandelier, which dominated the room, swinging side to side. Ada reorientated herself and scanned the room. Over by the window, a silhouette of a boy like person with spiky hair stood holding a case.

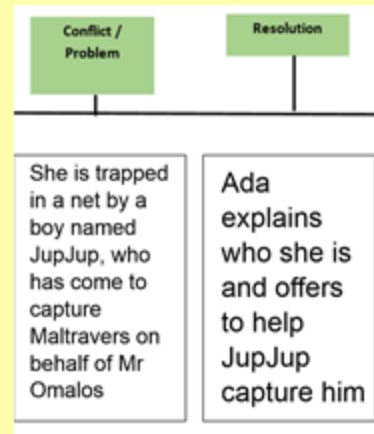

"Who's there?" shouted Ada desperately, "I'm Ada, the daughter of Lord Goth!"

"JupJup," came the reply from the window.

Thursday 28th January

L.O. I can write the conflict/problem and the resolution of my chapter that includes dialogue

Success Criteria
Include the problem
Use powerful vocabulary
Use descriptive language
Use adverbs
Resolve the problem
Include speech correctly punctuated

Resolution

"What do you want with me?" said Ada nervously.

"Where's Maltravers?" replied JupJup.

"He is in his room... I think," answered Ada. "What do you want with him?"

In that moment, the net started to lower and Ada found herself back on the floor. The figure revealed himself from the shadows. A boy, no older than 10, with spiky hair and a bright yellow briefcase stood about three metres from her.

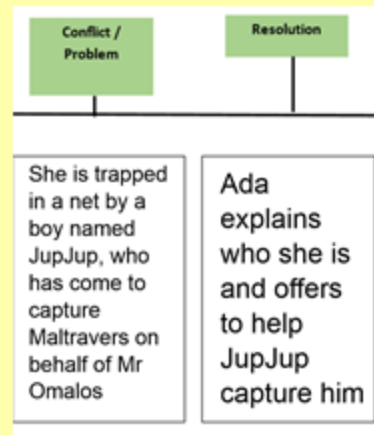

"I am JupJup and I am a very good friend of Mr Omalos. After the Indoor Hunt last year, Mr Omalos has wanted revenge on Maltravers. I am here to capture him!" he explained.

"I can help you," replied Ada, still entangled in the net. "Ever since it happened last year, I haven't like Maltravers and my Dad is refusing to sack him from his job here."

Thursday 28th January

L.O. I can write the conflict/problem and the resolution of my chapter that includes dialogue

Success Criteria
Include the problem
Use powerful vocabulary
Use descriptive language
Use adverbs
Resolve the problem
Include speech correctly punctuated

Task

- * Write two paragraphs today ... the problem and then the resolution. (Use my examples to help you)
- * Use the success criteria to assist your writing, making sure you include it all
- * When you have finished, reread your work and edit and improve.