Parents Evenings

From Mr Dyer...

What a brilliant day we had on Thursday, with so many children enjoying dressing up for World Book Day. Children (and teachers!) enjoyed expressing themselves and sharing their passion for their favourite characters.

Thank you to all of the parents and carers who helped make the day fun for the children. During the day, we shared lots of stories and reminded ourselves of the ENORMOUS benefits of reading. We learned that scientists have proven that people who read widely are happier, more intelligent...and even wealthier! Don't forget to head to the library or the book shops this weekend with your vouchers, to cash in on the inspiration for reading that the children have had this week. Last Friday, Mrs Freeman was thoroughly impressed by the positive attitude and good behaviour shown by our key stage two pupils at a local dance festival. The children enjoyed learning some new moves alongside their friends from other local schools.

Parents Evenings are coming up later this month, on 26th and 28th March. Please make sure you book in next week. If your child has a special educational need, their next meeting will be after Easter, to review their PLP.

This half term, we are reminding the children of our school's rules around behaviour and attitudes. To help make our rules at school even clearer, we have adopted the phrase: Ready, Respectful, Safe.

This language will help staff and children celebrate the behaviours we need to see, and to confront any behaviour that is not showing readiness, respect or safety. We will be having regular focuses upon different things to help make our behaviour even better. This week, our focus has been:

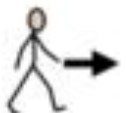

SAFE: Wonderful Walking

line up

quiet

forwards

WONDERFUL WALKING IS...

- ⇒ In a straight line
- ⇒ Everyone is quiet – voices off
- ⇒ Facing forward
- ⇒ Listening to instructions
- ⇒ Hands and feet to yourself
