From Mr Dyer...

The children were delighted on Thursday when the field had finally dried out enough for a good run around on the grass. We are so lucky with our outdoor space and the children have also enjoyed making dens and even lighting fires this week!

Lots of our children have been taking assessments in English and maths, this week. The children may have described taking tests in classes. These are a very helpful way for teachers to check in with whether or not the children have remembered key knowledge from this year so far and will help them plan their lessons for after Easter.

One of our longest standing members of staff, Alison Binnie, will be retiring from her kitchen duties with us soon. Alison has been preparing lunch for the children of Brixington for over 20 years! You may have already seen an advert on our website and on Devon Jobs to join our catering team.

Some of our children have not been in school today. They have been celebrating the festival of Eid with their families, breaking their fast at the end of Ramadan. We hope they all have a wonderful time with their families.

Reporting Absences

Phone the office

Call 01395 266997 option 1. When leaving a voicemail, tell us your child's name and details of illness.

Send a message

Make sure you have downloaded the Arbor app and send us a message.

Evidence

If your child is not in school due to a medical appointment, we will need to see proof of this. A screenshot of a letter or text showing appointment details is plenty.

Do not email

Where possible please do not email as this may not be seen before registration opens.

calls home

If your child has not been reported as absent by 9.30am, we will call home or even do a home visit to make sure your child is safe.

The Exmouth Seafront En Plein Air Painting Festival invites artists of all ages to paint outdoors along one of Devon's most beautiful coastlines.

Artists will create original work inspired by the scenery between Orcombe Point and the Exmouth Marina complex, capturing the character of the seafront, harbour, beach, and surrounding landscape.

Prize categories will include:

- Best Adult Painting
- Best Youth Painting
- Best Children's Artwork
 - Judges' Choice

We look forward to welcoming you to a fantastic day of painting along the Exmouth seafront!
