From Mr Dyer...

Easter is one of the busiest times of year for our friends at Brixington Church. Today they hosted all of our children for special Easter assemblies: Bradley and the team always go to such lengths to make our visits fun and engaging and we are grateful for all of their help and support this term.

Thank you to everyone who supported our Bingo Night last evening. There were lots of prizes won in the school hall and important moneys raised to help pay for play equipment for our children to enjoy in class and outside. With lots of exciting events coming up in the summer term (the Summer Fayre, especially) please consider volunteering to help with future PTA events. We have vacancies on our committee that must be filled in order to maintain the association's good work. Please drop into the office if you think you can support in any way.

It was my pleasure on Thursday to see lots of parents in our school in our Year 5 and Resource Base classes. Children in Year 5 entertained us all with a fun take on Ancient Greece, introducing us to their topic for after Easter. In the Resource Base, parents and carers joined in with a brilliant egg hunt and challenging activities to show off their learning. The children in our Resource Base also practised their life skills in Exeter on Thursday, when they took the train to the city's museum.

We wish all of our families a fun and restful Easter break. We are looking forward to seeing you all back in school on Tuesday April 22nd, after the Easter bank holiday.

Raising money for National Autistic Society

On 27 April, Rob and Dan will be running the Maer Half Marathon up and over the cliffs of sunny Devon to raise money for the National Autistic Society.

Why this cause in particular? As well as being best mates for almost 18 years, Rob and Dan have personal links with neurodiversity.

While he is still waiting on an official diagnosis from the NHS, Rob's son, Elijah, has faced development delays since the age of one. He has an excellent care network in place at school in Exmouth to ensure he gets the learning support he needs, while at home, Rob, and wife Darina, have adapted their lives to suit Elijah's needs.

Dan also has close links to neurodiversity among his nearest and dearest, with autism being a cause that is particularly close to his heart. As such, running in aid of the National Autistic Society is the perfect fit.

While awareness of conditions such as autism and ADHD is on the increase, the fact is that neurodiversity remains hugely underfunded and under supported. One only has to look at the length of time to get an official diagnosis on the NHS – circa four years in East Devon – to recognise this.

This is why charities such as the National Autistic Society are so important. Not only do they support those dealing with neurodiversity but also do so much to raise awareness among the wider community, generating crucial funds along the way.

Running the Maer Half is the least Rob and Dan can do help organisations like the National Autistic Society. Without generous donations, these charities would not survive and those who depend on them would lose out on so much.

Add in that April is World Autism Awareness Month, and the timing could not be better.

So, if you can spare a few quid to support Rob and Dan on their 13.1-mile mission at the end of April, please do consider donating. We'll be updating our page in the lead up to and after race day to let you all know how we get on!

Thank you
